Charlotte Cosper Signs with Eris Talent Agency

Young Actress, Singer and Model Signs with Cindy Schoonover for TV, Film, Stage, Commercial and Print Representation

Charlotte Cosper

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, September 4, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Rising young actress, singer and model Charlotte Cosper has signed with Eris Talent Agency, where she will be represented by Cindy Schoonover, executive director of commercials and talent agent for television, film, stage and commercial print. The signing marks an important next step for Cosper as she continues building a career across acting, singing and modeling following several years of performing and an increasingly focused commitment to professional training.

Performing has been part of Cosper's life from an early age. Long before stepping into an acting class, she was creating performances for her family, inspired by the movies, television shows and characters she grew up watching. What began as childhood creativity eventually developed into a serious interest in entertainment and a desire to work professionally in television and film.

Since December 2025, Cosper has undertaken extensive training across multiple areas of performance. She has worked with actor and coach Connor Weil on acting technique, monologue preparation, audition readiness and self-tape performance, and with Robert Vito on commercial acting, audition technique and scene preparation. She has also received modeling training from Suzanne von Schaack and vocal training from James Lugo.

Her performance experience includes stage productions of "Matilda", "Chitty Chitty Bang Bang" and "Diary of a Wimpy Kid". Cosper particularly enjoyed the challenge of performing with a British accent in "Matilda", while her ensemble work in "Diary of a Wimpy Kid" further developed her appreciation for the collaborative nature and energy of live theater.

Cosper has also been building a growing presence in modeling and pageantry. She has been featured twice in Iconic Glam Kids Magazine, first as a cover model and later in an Insider Story feature and has now added another magazine cover as the cover model for Matilda Kids Magazine. After previously being selected as a Top 5 finalist from more than 100 contestants in the Little Cuties Model Search, Cosper recently added another achievement when she was crowned Miss Coastal in the Little Miss Division.

Her modeling career is also taking her to one of fashion's biggest stages. Cosper is set to walk during New York Fashion Week, appearing on the runway for Archie Brown, Young Gods, Young Socialites, Mila Hoffman and Drishia's Closet. The combination of acting, singing, modeling and runway experience reflects the versatility Cosper brings to her new representation with Eris Talent Agency. The signing now gives her the opportunity to build upon that foundation while pursuing professional work across television, film, stage, commercials and print.

"I've always wanted to build a career in television and film, but I have a deep love for live theater as well," Cosper said. "Whether I'm in front of a camera or on stage, my greatest passion is telling meaningful stories, bringing characters to life and creating moments that entertain and connect with people."

Founded in Los Angeles in 2017 by Tina Contegenis, Eris Talent Agency, along with her business partner and CEO Amy Lord, is a talent and literary agency representing actors, writers, directors, producers, influencers, showrunners and other entertainment professionals. The agency has offices in Los Angeles, New York and Mexico City, an affiliate in London and a footprint in the Southeast.

Cosper will be represented by Cindy Schoonover, executive director of commercials at Eris Talent Agency and a talent agent representing performers across television, film, stage, commercials and print. With Amy Lord at the helm of the agency and Cindy Schoonover overseeing Cosper's representation, the signing gives the young performer an experienced team as she continues expanding her professional career.

For Cosper, the signing follows an important period of preparation and professional development, including her participation in iPOP!, where she had the opportunity to further develop her performance skills and introduce herself to entertainment industry professionals. Cosper approaches the next stage of her career with the same persistence she has brought to her training. She views rejection as part of the process rather than a reason to stop pursuing her ambitions.

"Every 'no' I receive only motivates me to keep moving forward," Cosper said. "Each experience, whether it leads to a yes or a no, pushes me to work harder, grow stronger and stay committed to my goals."

Outside entertainment, Cosper has played competitive soccer since she was 7, an experience she credits with helping develop her discipline, teamwork and determination. She plans to continue developing across acting, singing and modeling as she builds the versatility needed for a long-term career in entertainment.

Her ambitions include starring in a major television series or feature film, with Disney and Netflix among the platforms she would one day love to work with. If she could choose one dream role, Cosper would love the opportunity to portray a young Rapunzel in a live-action adaptation of Tangled.

With Schoonover and Eris Talent Agency now representing her, Cosper enters the next phase of her career with professional representation, a growing list of achievements and a determination to turn the passion she has had since childhood into lasting opportunities in entertainment.
