Tiresias Technologies, an Intelligent Systems technology and engineering services provider, announced today that the company has joined the bwtech@UMBC Research and Technology Park as an affiliate member. Intelligent Systems are characterized as the intersection of embedded systems, high-performance operating systems, and networks, "The Internet of Things."

The bwtech@UMBC Research and Technology Park member companies enjoy business support services from bwtech@UMBC's experienced entrepreneurial services team, robust and redundant data connectivity, shared reception areas and conference rooms, and a strategic location along I-95 in a federal HUBZone and state Enterprise Zone. Clients companies have access to the many resources of the UMBC campus.

Clients also have the opportunity to collaborate with the talented faculty and students of UMBC, currently ranked #1 among Maryland institutions for graduating the greatest proportion of students in computer and information science, according to the "CyberMaryland" report commissioned by Governor O'Malley. In addition to being a national leader in STEM (science, technology, engineering, mathematics) education, UMBC has been designated a "Center of Academic Excellence" in research sponsored by the National Security Agency and the Department of Homeland Security.

"We are excited about the prospects for collaboration with the companies and staff of bwtech@UMBC as well as research opportunities with University of Maryland, Baltimore County faculty," stated Sharon Brackett, Tiresias Technologies, President/CEO. "All three incubator programs in Clean Energy, Life Sciences and Cyber Security have the potential to benefit from Tiresias Technologies applying Intelligent Systems to solving their technical challenges."
