LoanPASS CRO Bill Mitchell Wins 2026 Vanguard Award

Industry veteran recognized for helping expand decisioning vendor's market share

MIAMI, FL, UNITED STATES, September 9, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- LoanPASS, the mortgage decisioning platform that unifies pricing, eligibility, and underwriting in a single configurable engine, announced that its Chief Revenue Officer, Bill Mitchell, has been selected by HousingWire as a 2026 Vanguard Award winner. The award recognizes executives whose leadership has positively impacted their companies and the U.S. housing economy at large.

Bill Mitchell is a veteran of the mortgage industry, with more than 25 years of experience working in revenue-generating leadership positions for lending entities and financial services technology firms. He is known as a company-building executive in the mortgage technology space, with a documented track record of swiftly growing revenue and market share.

This is the second Vanguard award the company has claimed. LoanPASS' CEO and founder Bill Roy received the coveted industry accolade in 2024 for his visionary leadership style and steadfast commitment to architecting disruptive technologies that deliver newfound lending efficiency.

"Since our inception, LoanPASS has been on an unwavering mission to replace the antiquated decisioning systems holding lenders back," Roy said. "To date, Bill Mitchell's influence and drive to challenge the status quo have helped numerous lender clients unshackle themselves from inflexible decisioning technologies. I am very pleased that Bill has been recognized as a 2026 Vanguard winner."

Over the past two years, Mitchell has driven significant enterprise growth while expanding LoanPASS' footprint in private money lending, non-QM lending, nonagency lending, portfolio lending, business purpose loans, DSCR loans, and other specialty loan products. Mitchell successfully structured deals that won the business of the nation's leading residential construction lender and the largest bridge lender in the United States, accounting for nearly $20 billion in annual origination volume between the two clients.

In addition, Mitchell collaborated with the LoanPASS team on several company milestones, helping with the successful acquisition of PMI Rate Pro, the attainment of SOC 2 Type II certification, and the introduction of LoanPASS AU. Together, these recent initiatives significantly strengthened the company's market position as an enterprise-class platform capable of supporting the industry's most sophisticated lenders.

Today, LoanPASS supports tens of billions of dollars in annual loan originations across a growing base of leading mortgage lenders and private lending organizations and has meaningfully expanded its strategic technology partnerships. During that same period, LoanPASS increased revenue by more than 300% and grew daily active users fourfold. Due to LoanPASS' highly configurable, no-code design and zero-cost APIs allowed these major growth milestones to be accomplished with only a minimal increase in headcount.

HousingWire CEO Clayton Collins stated: “Exceptional leadership is defined by the ability to turn vision into meaningful action. The 2026 Vanguards are moving decisively while others remain cautious. They are investing, innovating and building organizations designed to thrive through every market cycle. These leaders understand that difficult conditions don’t diminish opportunity, they reward the people prepared to act on it.”

Vanguard award winners include accomplished leaders with diverse backgrounds who have made a lasting impact on mortgage, real estate, homebuilding and investments. About LoanPASS:
LoanPASS is a modern product, pricing, eligibility, and automated underwriting platform designed for agency, non-agency, private credit, and portfolio lending. LoanPASS empowers banks, credit unions, IMBs, and private lenders to automate decisions, accelerate product deployment, and increase underwriting throughput without expanding staff or relying on legacy tools. With a flexible no-code rules engine and open API architecture, LoanPASS enables lenders to digitize manual pricing and underwriting workflows, ensure consistent and compliant decisions, and deliver faster borrower responses. LoanPASS AU, the company’s automated underwriting solution, extends these capabilities to portfolio, Non-QM, Bank Statement, DSCR, business-purpose, and other nonagency lending programs by providing automated eligibility validation, underwriting recommendations, conditions management and decision support. Together, LoanPASS helps lenders improve loan quality, speed, efficiency, and profitability. LoanPASS operates alongside PMI Rate Pro, a mortgage insurance quoting and ordering platform supporting all major U.S. MI providers. Visit www.LoanPASS.io for more information.
