The milestone reflects the agency's long-standing presence in Modesto and its continued work with individuals and families navigating the bail process following an arrest. "People call during some of the most stressful moments of their lives," said Angela Garcia, a licensed bail bond agent known as the Bail Bond Girl. "The agency remains available 24 hours a day to answer questions, explain the process and help families understand the steps required to move a bail bond forward."

Garcia Family Bail Bonds provides services involving emergency, DUI, drug offense, domestic violence, felony, misdemeanor, immigration and surety bail bonds. The agency also assists with warrant checks and walk-through procedures when permitted under applicable laws and regulations.

California coverage includes Modesto and surrounding communities, as well as clients seeking assistance in Alameda, Fresno, Los Angeles, Mendocino, Merced, San Diego, San Joaquin, San Mateo, Sonoma and Stanislaus counties.

For matters outside California, the agency coordinates with appropriately licensed bail bond professionals through its nationwide network. Bail requirements, eligibility and procedures vary by jurisdiction, and each matter is handled according to applicable state laws, court requirements and licensing regulations.

The agency's role includes obtaining available booking and bail information, explaining required documents, coordinating the bond process and maintaining communication with the involved parties. Release timing remains subject to jail processing procedures and the requirements of the court or detention facility.
