ATLANTA, GA, UNITED STATES, September 9, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Toastique, the vibrant gourmet toast, juice and coffee bar conceptualized in Washington D.C., will officially open the doors to its second location in Atlanta, Georgia on Saturday, Sept. 12. Located in the bustling new Brickworks development, Toastique will welcome the community by rewarding the first 100 people in line on opening day (8am-5pm) with $50 in Toastique reward dollars with any toast purchase. Franchised by local Andy Dakshina, Toastique Atlanta – Brickworks will serve a nutrition-forward menu of breakfast, lunch and brunch options. For Dakshina, a transition towards improving his health and becoming an athlete led him to discover Toastique. With the opening of his own store, Dakshina hopes to create a space where customers can count on receiving a healthy, high-quality meal that they trust and enjoy time and time again. He notes that all meals on his menu will consist of transparent ingredients, all made from scratch with no artificial additives.

"When I began running ultra distances, it really put more focus into the things that I ate and how I ate them, and after discovering Toastique, I knew that I wanted to help do the same for others through dependable and convenient options," said Dakshina. "I want to educate customers about our offerings and let them see the quality and experience the taste that makes it so different."

Toastique Atlanta – Brickworks will serve the brand's signature innovative toasts, smoothies and smoothie bowls, coffee creations, cold-pressed juices and more. A grab-and-go menu and wellness shots will also be available. With the West Midtown area in close proximity to both Georgia Tech and Georgia State Universities, Dakshina envisions it becoming the ideal place for anyone from busy college students to working professionals grabbing lunch to a post-workout destination.
