

FORZA Reveals 'Elixir of Life' with New Raspberry Ketone Diet Formula

/EINPresswire.com/ Last month, British experts presented new evidence on how resveratrol, a polyphenol usually found in red wine, can be harnessed to help beat a range of life-threatening conditions, such as heart disease, diabetes and cancer. The international conference, aptly named 'Resveratrol 2012', was held at the University of Leicester, England, and saw scientists present evidence from more than ten clinical trials that attempted to show how the natural compound could help to combat life-threatening illnesses, delay the aging process and extend longevity.

The event followed the first international conference on resveratrol held in Denmark in 2010 and was a chance for those involved to examine the latest evidence regarding resveratrol's positive role in the prevention of chronic, and often fatal, lifestyle diseases which blight the health of the nation and place a huge burden on the NHS. On the final day of the conference, a scientific working group was assembled and had the job of evaluating the published literature and data put forward before formulating an updated set of recommendations for the future use of the powerful anti-oxidant as a 'natural medicine'.

Now that such compelling evidence has finally been validated by experts, slimmers and dieters everywhere in the UK will be delighted that food supplement giant FORZA has decided to include a potent 100mg of the age-defying resveratrol in every bottle of its new raspberry ketone fat burner.

Stylish and refined with an air of sophistication, FORZA Raspberry Ketone 2:2:1 offers a fresh and exciting approach to natural weight loss.

As well as being able to extend life span in virtually all living organisms, resveratrol has also been found to prevent cardiovascular disease, stop vision deteriorating, protect against colon and prostate cancers, reduce the risk of lung cancer and favourably modulate factors implicated in the onset of heart disease, stroke, Alzheimer's disease and diabetes.

FORZA Supplements has been an established sports nutrition and diet capsule manufacturer, wholesaler and retailer since 2007, holding over 15 trademarks and distributing worldwide from its Kent-based technology centre. Full site: www.forzasupplements.co.uk
