The residence occupies a serene setting overlooking two permanently protected open-space parcels, with water features on two sides that attract local wildlife throughout the year. Designed to embrace its dramatic surroundings, the home pairs expansive indoor-outdoor living with an approximately 800-square-foot deck accessible from both the great room and primary suite.

Concierge Auctions has maintained an active presence in Jackson Hole for more than a decade, bringing a select collection of the region's distinctive residences, ranches and land offerings to auction. Through its dedicated Ranch and Land division, the firm combines specialized knowledge of these unique assets with its global reach and competitive auction platform to connect sellers with qualified buyers worldwide.

“This is the kind of opportunity our auction platform is built to elevate: a rare offering in one of the world’s most luxurious and competitive mountain luxury markets,” said Chad Roffers, CEO and Co-Founder of Concierge Auctions. “Time and again, we have seen Jackson Hole draw interest from buyers far beyond the Mountain West, many of whom are waiting for the exact right property before entering the market. This residence is well positioned to create that sense of urgency.”

“Teton Pines is one of Jackson Hole’s most sought-after communities because it offers a genuine sense of retreat without sacrificing access to the valley’s best recreation,” said Emerson. “This home stands out for its protected views, water on two sides, and the wildlife it draws throughout the year. We chose to partner with Concierge Auctions because its reach and proven auction platform offer a compelling way to introduce the property to buyers well beyond our local market.”

Located at 4325 Spring Violet Court in Wilson, Wyoming inside the Jackson Hole Valley, the residence was built in 1994 and thoughtfully designed to spotlight its cinematic mountain and water views. A light-filled, open-concept great room is anchored by a river rock fireplace and integrated wet bar, while hardwood oak flooring brings warmth throughout the home.

An approximately 800-square-foot deck extends from both the Great Room and primary suite, offering generous outdoor space overlooking the surrounding landscape. Natural cedar detailing and a shake roof complement the mountain setting. Supporting the residence are a private well and septic system, offering practical self-sufficiency.

Residents enjoy access to the Teton Pines Country Club and its Arnold Palmer-designed golf course, full-service clubhouse, and tennis facilities, along with groomed Nordic ski trails in winter. Jackson Hole Mountain Resort in Teton Village is approximately seven miles north, offering downhill skiing and summer gondola access.

Set on the west bank of the Snake River, Wilson provides convenient access to Jackson's Town Square, galleries, boutiques and restaurants, as well as nearby dining and shopping in The Aspens. Fly fishing on the Snake River, hiking and wildlife viewing along regional trails, and the Laurance S. Rockefeller Preserve and Grand Teton National Park are all within easy reach. Yellowstone National Park's south entrance is approximately 90 minutes away.
