LEDEX Forum to Bring 100+ Business Leaders to Olhão, Algarve for Practical AI Conference

One-day English-language event on 15 October will focus on working examples, practical decisions and next steps for business leaders.

LEDEX Forum - AI & Automation Conference for Business Leaders

OLHãO, PORTUGAL, September 12, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- LEDEX Forum will bring more than 100 business leaders to the Algarve on 15 October for a full-day conference on practical AI use in business.

The event is aimed at founders, CEOs, managers, department heads and other people responsible for business decisions, with attendees expected from Portugal and across Europe.

LEDEX Forum is built around a simple question: what can a business owner do after each talk? The programme will feature speakers sharing how they have used AI in their own organisations, including the decisions they made, the work involved and the lessons learned.

Sessions will cover areas where AI is already affecting day-to-day business, including customer communication, marketing, research, administration and planning. The event is intended for leaders assessing where AI could be useful in their own companies, rather than for developers or technical specialists.

The Algarve has a large small-business economy, established local companies, international residents, tourism and service businesses, and a growing community of entrepreneurs and independent professionals. LEDEX Forum will provide a full-day setting for business leaders from these groups to discuss practical applications of AI and meet others facing similar decisions.

LOFT Community has joined LEDEX Forum as a partner. LOFT connects remote workers, entrepreneurs, digital nomads and independent professionals across Loulé, Olhão, Faro and Tavira.

LEDEX Forum has also announced a partnership with SheSapiens Algarve, a community for female founders, business owners, entrepreneurs, coaches, consultants and creatives. The group meets monthly in Olhão, Vilamoura and Lagos.

The partnerships connect LEDEX Forum with people building businesses across the Algarve. LOFT brings together remote professionals and independent entrepreneurs, while SheSapiens connects women building businesses and projects across the region. Both communities share the Forum's focus on practical ideas and useful conversations for business people.

Tickets and further information are available at ledexforum.com.
