The announcement comes as Baby's Brew exhibits at Kind + Jugend 2026, the world's leading trade fair for baby and toddler products, where the company is showcasing its award-winning portable bottle warmers, formula dispenser, bottle adapters, and silicone feeding accessories.

"Adding experienced partners in both Canada and the U.K. is an exciting milestone in our international growth strategy," said David Suk, Chief Executive of Baby's Brew. "Parents everywhere are looking for products that make feeding on the go easier, and these partnerships position us to better serve those markets while creating momentum for expansion into additional countries."

Baby's Brew has become one of the fastest-growing brands in the infant feeding category by solving one of parenting's most common frustrations: warming bottles anytime, anywhere without a cord. Unlike traditional bottle warmers that require electricity or hot water, Baby's Brew's portable warmer allows parents to safely heat breast milk, formula and water while traveling, running errands or enjoying everyday adventures with their little ones.

Warmer features include:
- Four temperature settings: 80°F, 98°F, and 103°F and 110°F for water or formula
- Cordless and truly portable with a rechargeable battery
- Fast, safe, and reliable
- Warms 8 oz in just 3 minutes (room temperature to 98°F)
- 67% faster and 67% more powerful than competing warmers
- Liquids warm evenly from top to bottom, preserving vital breastmilk nutrients while ensuring consistent heat
- No wasted milk from transferring liquids
- Fits into most cupholders, diaper bags, and stroller bottle pockets
