JustKeeps Travel Expands Its Global Luxury Travel Advisory

Founder Justin Keeperman expands JustKeeps Travel's global reach with personalized luxury travel planning and concierge support.

MIAMI, FL, UNITED STATES, September 15, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- JustKeeps Travel, a South Florida-based luxury travel advisory founded by Justin Keeperman, is expanding its reach as the boutique firm continues to grow its client base in the United States and internationally.

The company serves a growing base of high-profile clients who value discretion, access and a highly personal approach to travel.

"The booking is usually the easy part," said Keeperman. "The real value is being five steps ahead, always. I want to understand what my clients need before they ever have to ask."

For Keeperman, that often comes down to knowing the client, trusting his instincts and having the relationships to move quickly when something needs to happen.

"Some clients need a vacation planned from beginning to end. Others have complicated schedules that can change by the hour," Keeperman said. "You have to know how they travel, what matters to them and when to step in without being asked."

Through relationships with leading luxury hotels and preferred partner programs around the world, eligible clients may receive benefits including VIP recognition, breakfast, hotel credits and upgrade consideration at participating properties.

But Keeperman says the real value of those relationships goes beyond amenities.

"There are more ways than ever to book travel yourself," he said. "The role of an advisor today is about judgment, relationships and having the Rolodex to make things happen. It's knowing the client, knowing who to call and being able to respond when plans change."

That combination of access, discretion and personal knowledge has become central to the way JustKeeps Travel operates as it continues to grow.

“Luxury is not just where you stay,” Keeperman said. “It is having someone who knows your trip, understands your preferences and takes responsibility when something needs to be handled.”
