Work Perfect Becomes a Certified Google Cloud Partner, Building on its monday.com APJ Partner of the Year Recognition

Sydney-based, two-time monday.com APJ Partner of the Year adds Google Cloud Partner certification as it grows its Data and AI practice

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA, September 15, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Work Perfect, a monday.com Platinum Partner and two-time APJ Partner of the Year, has been certified as a Google Cloud Partner, extending its Data and AI practice as it grows its enterprise AI consulting arm alongside its long-standing monday.com implementation business across Australia and New Zealand.

> Our clients don't think in terms of individual platforms, they think in terms of outcomes, and increasingly that means monday.com and AI working together as one operating layer."
>
> Sharang Bharadwaj, CEO of Work Perfect

Work Perfect's Data and AI practice is building its approach to Google Cloud's Gemini Enterprise: a structured process for scoping AI readiness, workflow fit and integration complexity before implementation begins. The practice is running a series of roundtables for APAC C-suite leaders on where conversational and agentic AI fits into existing operations, extending Work Perfect's process consulting and adoption strategy work into the AI layer.

The expansion builds on Work Perfect's recognition as monday.com's APJ Partner of the Year, announced at the company's Partner Summit in Prague in February. Work Perfect was one of four regional winners, alongside The SaaSy People (EMEA), AbilityOps (North America) and Alest (LATAM), selected for their contributions to monday.com customers over the past year. It is Work Perfect's second APJ Partner of the Year title, having also won the award in 2022, and its fourth monday.com partner award overall.

"Being named monday.com's APJ Partner of the Year twice over has given us a strong platform to build from," said Sharang Bharadwaj, CEO of Work Perfect. "Becoming a certified Google Cloud Partner and extending that into Gemini Enterprise is a natural next step. Our clients don't think in terms of individual platforms, they think in terms of outcomes, and increasingly that means monday.com and AI working together as one operating layer rather than as separate tools."

"Our partners are an important growth engine powering monday.com across APJ, bringing our AI-first work platform to life in ways that address the region's unique operational complexities," said Dean Swan, Vice President & GM APJ at monday.com. "They're enabling sophisticated AI-driven transformations that unlock new revenue streams, streamline cross-border workflows, and deliver the efficiency gains distributed teams need to scale with confidence."
