Chiro One Wellness Centers Reopens Geist, Indiana Clinic and Welcomes Dr. Nikita Neeley

Community invited to celebrate the reopening and meet Dr. Neeley at a ribbon-cutting ceremony on Thursday, October 1, 2026.

GEIST, IN, UNITED STATES, September 15, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Chiro One Wellness Centers has reopened its Geist, Indiana, clinic and welcomes Dr. Nikita Neeley to the location, bringing a patient-centered approach to chiropractic care focused on listening, building trust and helping patients work toward better health and well-being.

The clinic officially reopened on September 14, 2026, marking a new chapter for Chiro One in the Geist community. To celebrate the reopening, Chiro One will host a ribbon-cutting ceremony on Thursday, October 1, 2026, giving patients, families and community members an opportunity to meet Dr. Neeley and connect with the Chiro One team.

Recognized for her ability to listen and truly connect with patients, Dr. Neeley brings a thoughtful, relationship-centered approach to chiropractic care. She takes time to understand each person's concerns, goals and lifestyle, with the belief that building trust is an important part of the patient experience.

Dr. Neeley grew up in French Lick, Indiana, a small, close-knit community where neighbors knew and looked out for one another. That strong sense of connection, family, and community continues to influence the way she approaches patient care today.

Her journey toward chiropractic care took an unexpected path. While studying to become a dentist, Dr. Neeley had the opportunity to shadow a chiropractor. Seeing firsthand how chiropractic care could help people improve their health changed the direction of her career.

She realized chiropractic would allow her to build meaningful relationships with patients while taking an individualized approach to care. She ultimately chose to pursue chiropractic so she could work closely with people and empower them to take an active role in their health.

For Dr. Neeley, one of the most rewarding parts of being a chiropractor is the relationships she develops with her patients. She takes time to understand their concerns, goals and lives beyond their symptoms, with the goal of helping each person work toward becoming the healthiest version of themselves.

She considers it an especially meaningful compliment when a patient trusts her enough to bring a spouse, child or other loved one to her for care.

“Being invited to care for someone’s family tells me they feel heard, supported and confident in the care they’re receiving,” said Dr. Neeley. “Building that kind of trust with patients is one of the things I value most about being a chiropractor.”
