LuggageToShip.com Expands AI Booking for Holiday Travel and Ski Season

LuggageToShip.com helps book ahead, send belongings across states or worldwide, and schedule return delivery—all online.

AI-Powered Worldwide Belongings Booking

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, September 17, 2026 / EINPresswire.com/ -- LuggageToShip.com, an Inc. Power Partner Award–recognized technology company, today announced the expansion of its AI-powered travel and delivery commerce platform ahead of the holiday travel and winter ski seasons.

The platform enables consumers and businesses to compare available transportation options and arrange door-to-door delivery of luggage, boxes, packages, gifts, skis, snowboards, golf clubs and other eligible belongings. Customers can book and pay online, generate shipping documents and track deliveries through a unified digital experience.

Instead of carrying bulky belongings through airports or visiting multiple shipping locations, customers can arrange available pickup or drop-off services, send items to destinations across the United States or internationally, and schedule future or return delivery.

"People need to move much more than luggage," said Mike Ulker, CEO of LuggageToShip.com. "We help people compare, book and pay for delivery of luggage, boxes, gifts and sports gear—making it easier to send what matters and travel lighter."

BEYOND LUGGAGE AND PACKAGE DELIVERY

LuggageToShip.com combines travel technology, intelligent automation and multi-carrier delivery in a belongings-booking platform designed for consumers and businesses.

Customers can arrange transportation for:

Suitcases, carry-ons and travel bags
Boxes, packages and personal belongings
Holiday gifts and care packages
Skis, snowboards and winter equipment
Golf clubs and other sports gear
College belongings and dorm-room essentials
Trade-show materials and business equipment
Items for relocations and extended travel

The expanded platform allows customers to manage different delivery needs through one online booking experience.

BOOK ONE-WAY OR ROUND-TRIP DELIVERY IN ADVANCE

Customers can schedule delivery before traveling and arrange return transportation for a later date. This is especially useful for ski vacations, golf trips, college moves, extended stays, holiday travel, conferences and business events.

Ship Skis and Snowboards to Winter Destinations

Travel Lighter with AI-Powered Delivery

A traveler can send ski equipment to a winter destination before departure and arrange its return after the trip. Students can send belongings to campus and schedule delivery home at the end of the semester. Businesses can move event materials to a conference and book their return after the event concludes.

Available pickup, drop-off, storage and future-delivery options depend on the shipment, destination and selected service.

AI-POWERED BOOKING AND CARRIER COMPARISON

LuggageToShip.com uses intelligent automation to help customers review available services based on origin, destination, item details and preferred delivery timing.

WORLDWIDE LUGGAGE SHIPPING

LuggageToShip.com

Platform capabilities include:

Multi-carrier service comparison
Advance one-way and round-trip booking
Door-to-door pickup and delivery options
Automated labels and shipping documentation
International customs-document support
Secure online booking and payment
Real-time shipment tracking
Domestic and international delivery
Customer support throughout the process

Available carrier services may include DHL, FedEx, UPS and other qualified transportation providers, depending on the shipment and destination. LuggageToShip.com does not represent itself as the carrier; it provides a digital platform through which customers can compare and book available services.

WORLDWIDE DELIVERY ACROSS MORE THAN 220 COUNTRIES AND TERRITORIES

LuggageToShip.com supports domestic and international delivery options across more than 220 countries and territories.

Customers can arrange transportation between cities, ZIP codes, states and countries. The platform is designed to make booking delivery feel more like reserving a flight or hotel than completing a traditional shipping transaction.

International availability makes the platform useful for holiday travel, study-abroad programs, winter vacations, family visits, relocations and business trips across destinations including Canada, Europe, Japan and other major travel markets.

BUILT FOR HOLIDAY TRAVEL AND WINTER SKI SEASON

Customers can book deliveries in advance for Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year travel and winter vacations. Sending belongings ahead can reduce the need to carry oversized or bulky items through airports, pay airline baggage charges or transport equipment in rental vehicles.

Skiers and snowboarders can arrange delivery to eligible hotels, resorts, residences and other destinations. Golfers can send clubs ahead for vacations and tournaments, while families can ship gifts, clothing and personal belongings directly to their destinations.

The platform can also support travel surrounding major events, including Formula 1 in Las Vegas, winter sporting events, conferences and trade shows.

SERVING STUDENTS, FAMILIES, SENIORS AND BUSINESSES

College students and families can use LuggageToShip.com for semester moves, school breaks, internships and study-abroad programs. Families can arrange delivery of gifts, care packages and personal items to loved ones across the country or internationally.

Businesses, hotels, universities, camps, travel agencies, relocation providers, sports organizations and event organizers can use the platform to coordinate recurring or customer-facing delivery needs.

Potential B2B applications include:

LuggageToShip.com also serves hotels, universities, camps, travel agencies, relocation providers, event organizers, sports organizations and corporate travel programs.

Business applications may include:

Hotel guest-luggage and lost-item delivery
Student move-in and move-out programs

Camp and seasonal-belongings transportation
Employee relocation support
Conference and trade-show logistics
Sports equipment delivery
Travel-agency and hospitality integrations

LuggageToShip.com welcomes partnership discussions with organizations seeking to add technology-enabled luggage, package and belongings delivery to their services.
