Azilen Partners with Visier to Bring Workforce Intelligence and AI-Powered Decision-Making to Enterprises

IRVING, TX, UNITED STATES, September 17, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Azilen Technologies is partnering with Visier, the global leader in Workforce Intelligence and creator of Visier Workforce AI, to help organizations turn fragmented workforce data into trusted insights, smarter planning, and more informed business decisions. The partnership brings together Visier's Workforce AI with Azilen's expertise in data engineering, product engineering, enterprise integrations, and AI development.

As workforce decisions become increasingly connected to business performance, organizations need more than fragmented reports from individual systems. Visier brings people and work data together in a real-time intelligence layer, giving leaders access to analytics, AI-powered guidance, workforce planning, benchmarks, and predictive insights in one environment.

> Workforce data now shapes critical business decisions. Our partnership with Visier combines its workforce intelligence with Azilen's AI expertise to turn complex data into actionable intelligence."

Through the partnership, Azilen, as a Visier Solution Partner, will help organizations with end-to-end Visier Implementation, by establishing reliable workforce data pipelines, supporting data modeling and migration, and extending workforce intelligence into broader enterprise workflows, including customization as per business needs. This enables customers to move beyond static reporting toward a more connected approach to understanding workforce trends, identifying risks, and planning for what comes next.

"We are delighted to announce Azilen Technologies as a Solution Provider in the Visier Partner

Program. Today's market demands actionable, AI-powered insights that deliver immediate return on investment. Uniting Visier's AI with Azilen's proven implementation capabilities enables us to equip organizations with the scalable, future-ready solutions required to thrive in modern business." - Tim Quan, Global Vice President of Partnerships at Visier

Visier's platform also provides access to industry and compensation benchmarks and predictive models that can help organizations understand where they stand and anticipate workforce movement. Its current platform includes more than 250 million HR benchmark data points, 2 billion compensation benchmark data points, and 85,000+ organizations contributing to predictions, providing organizations with broader context for workforce decisions.

Together, Azilen and Visier aim to help enterprises make workforce intelligence a more connected part of business strategy, giving leaders the context and technology needed to respond to workforce change, plan for what is ahead, and turn people decisions into measurable business outcomes.
