ARACORE Joins Global Dollar Network ... Accelerating Global Expansion of ISN

Network for expanding global use of USDG... 150+ institutions including Mastercard, Kraken, Robinhood and Worldpay participate

SEOUL, SEOUL, SOUTH KOREA, September 18, 2026 / EINPresswire.com/ -- ARACORE, the U.S. subsidiary of blockchain and AI company BPMG, announced today that it has officially joined the Global Dollar Network (GDN).

GDN is a global network of over 150 leaders across crypto, banking and fintech working together to drive stablecoin adoption and expand the use of Global Dollar (USDG), a regulated, U.S. dollar-backed stablecoin.

> ARACORE is building institutional infrastructure that connects global financial institutions with diverse digital dollar ecosystems, not limited to a single stablecoin."

> Jihoon Cha, CEO of Aracore

Paxos issues USDG on behalf of Global Dollar Network, and is a leading provider of blockchain infrastructure solutions including stablecoin issuance and digital asset custody. USDG is issued by Paxos Digital Singapore Pte., which is supervised by the Monetary Authority of Singapore (MAS).

GDN participants include global financial, payment, and digital asset companies such as Kraken, OKX, Robinhood, Worldpay and over 150 others. Through this GDN participation, ARACORE aims to expand its connectivity with various global stablecoins including USDG and build a multi-stablecoin-based institutional financial infrastructure.

ARACORE also plans to leverage its institutional settlement network, ISN (Institutional Settlement Network) — a messaging and orchestration infrastructure for institutional use — to connect USDG and other global stablecoins with institutional financial networks.

In particular, building on its partnerships with South Korean internet bank Kbank, Hong Kong-based digital asset financial group HashKey, and Canadian payment company VirgoPAY, ARACORE plans to expand its institutional network and grow its cross-border remittance, payment, and settlement business between financial institutions and corporations.

Jihoon Cha, CEO of Aracore, said: "ARACORE is building institutional infrastructure that connects global financial institutions with diverse digital dollar ecosystems, not limited to a single stablecoin. This GDN participation will serve as the foundation for connecting the USDG ecosystem with ARACORE's global institutional network."
