NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, September 20, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- With a landmark Ibiza performance, international acclaim, and a new partnership with M Life Music Group behind her next release, ZAMA is entering a new chapter of her career. As she continues to blend Caribbean influences with global sounds, her music is reaching audiences far beyond borders—transforming cultural pride into a worldwide movement.

On September 21, 2026, Haitian-American artist ZAMA will take the stage at Hï Ibiza alongside globally acclaimed Haitian producer Francis Mercier for a special performance of their breakout collaboration, "U&I." The appearance marks another defining moment for the internationally charting singer-songwriter, whose genre-bending sound continues to resonate across continents with this highly anticipated performance at one of electronic music's most iconic stages.

Born Rebecca Zama, the artist has built a reputation for seamlessly blending Pop, R&B, Afro-Caribbean influences, Electronic music, and House rhythms into a sound that is uniquely her own. Her growing international impact earned her one of France's highest cultural honors when she was named a Knight of the Order of Arts and Letters by the French Ministry of Culture in 2025.

At the center of ZAMA's recent rise is "U&I," her collaboration with Francis Mercier from his debut album Lakay. The track, which celebrates connection, love, and belonging, incorporates Haitian Creole into its unforgettable drop, introducing global audiences to a piece of Haitian culture through music.

Since its release, the song has been performed before thousands of fans in New York, Montreal, and other major cities, becoming a signature moment in both artists' live performances. Now, the journey continues in Ibiza, placing ZAMA on one of electronic music's most prestigious stages.

Following the release of her latest single, "Répondeur," a genre-crossing fusion of R&B and Konpa, ZAMA has officially signed her next release "Far From Here" with M Life Music Group, the independent label founded by acclaimed music executive Mike Jean.

"ZAMA represents the future of global music. She is fearless in her artistry, proud of her Haitian heritage, and committed to creating music that connects cultures. At M Life Music Group, we're excited to support her next chapter and help bring her voice to even larger audiences around the world. What she is building is bigger than music—it's cultural impact."
— Mike Jean, Founder & CEO, M Life Music Group

> ZAMA is a powerful new voice in global music—authentic, fearless, and deeply connected to her Haitian roots. We're proud to support her journey and help share her artistry with the world."
