Vi Nanthaveth Will Speak at Kaleidoscope 2026 Conference in Las Vegas

AUSTIN, TX, UNITED STATES, September 21, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Vi Nanthaveth, founder and owner of Nanthaveth & Associates, will join a panel of immigration law leaders at Kaleidoscope 2026, 8am's annual gathering for law firms and other professional-services businesses. The three-day event runs September 22-24, 2026, at Encore at Wynn Las Vegas and draws firm owners, legal technologists, and industry experts from across the country for CLE-accredited sessions on practice management, innovation, and firm growth.

Nanthaveth's session, "Immigration Law: What's Still Unsettled," is scheduled for Thursday, September 24, from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. and carries 1.0 hours of CLE credit. The panel takes on the questions immigration attorneys are fielding most right now: what remains tied up in federal court, where enforcement policy keeps shifting, and what those uncertainties mean for how firms advise clients and structure their practices. Nanthaveth will be joined by fellow panelists Ruby Powers of Ruby Powers Law and Erin Elliot, with Aisling Conroy of 8am moderating the discussion.

Over the past year, Vi Nanthaveth has appeared in multiple KVUE news segments addressing visa policy changes, expedited removal proceedings, and delays in green card processing, and she has been a guest on the Immigration Nation podcast discussing her approach to client counsel. Her selection for a national CLE panel places that local reputation in front of a broader legal audience grappling with the same unsettled landscape.

Founded in Austin in 2008, Nanthaveth & Associates has built its practice on family-based petitions, employment-based immigration, green cards, adjustment of status, and citizenship, serving clients in English and Spanish. Nanthaveth brings more than 20 years of hands-on immigration law experience to a practice area that has seen frequent policy shifts in recent years.

Immigration attorneys, referral partners, and members of the media interested in the Kaleidoscope 2026 session can find the full agenda and registration details on 8am's event page.
