

IT recruiter Nicoll Curtin eyes rapid expansion...

/EINPresswire.com/ UK (Submitpressrelease123.com - press release) Nicoll Curtin is making further investments to boost the capacity and revenue of its UK Commerce and Industry division.

The division has been split into two large business units for contract and permanent, and a new manager has been hired to head up each team. Alex Hutchings - formerly of Huntress and Robert Walters - joined recently and is in charge of permanent hiring, whilst ex-Venn Group manager Matthew Mangan, who joined Nicoll Curtin in May 2012, heads up contract.

Since it was established two years ago, the UK Commerce and Industry division has grown rapidly, with a client base spanning a range of technical industries. Nicoll Curtin is already the top supplier to some big clients in telecoms, betting and gaming and insurance, and its reputation for delivering outstanding candidates together with professional and efficient client service is fast becoming established.

Sales Director, Graham Hale, said:

'Following on from extremely favourable candidate and client feedback, we are confident that we can push the Commerce & Industry arm of our business even further in 2013. We are delighted to have Alex and Matt on board – both are excellent team managers who bring with them a wealth of experience in a range of industries. They will be able to add immense value to our client service and delivery, bringing in-depth market knowledge that has already enabled them to make a huge impact - strengthening their teams, finding outstanding, business changing candidates, winning new clients and increasing revenue for the business.'

Graham expects the Commerce & Industry sector to account for 30% of Nicoll Curtin's overall UK revenue by the end of 2013, which will be a huge achievement for a division that was only established in January 2011.

The Commerce & Industry division supplies a range of technology professionals, from developers to programme managers, working with clients from a wide spectrum of private sector industries, including:

- ? Betting and gaming
- ? Broadcasting
- ? Management consulting

- ? E-retailing
- ? Insurance
- ? Not for profit
- ? Online
