HONOLULU, HI, UNITED STATES, September 21, 2026 / EINPresswire.com/ -- HONOLULU, HI, UNITED STATES — The Covert Code Podcast, hosted by digital marketing strategist, entrepreneur, and Forbes Books author Anna Covert, has officially reached 250,000 subscribers on YouTube, marking a major milestone in the show's continued growth.

Launched in spring 2024, The Covert Code has grown from a digital marketing podcast into a wide-ranging platform for candid conversations about business, technology, leadership, artificial intelligence, renewable energy, and the forces shaping the future.

> Two hundred fifty thousand subscribers is an incredible achievement, but it also represents 250,000 reasons to keep learning, asking better questions and creating conversations that matter."

The milestone follows a period of rapid audience growth. The podcast surpassed 45,000 YouTube followers in October 2025 before celebrating 100,000 followers and its 100th episode in January 2026. It has now more than doubled that audience, reaching 250,000 YouTube subscribers while continuing to attract listeners across Spotify, Apple Podcasts, Amazon Music, iHeartRadio, and other major platforms.

"Reaching 250,000 subscribers is something I never could have imagined when I started The Covert Code," said Anna Covert. "What began as a way to decode digital marketing has grown into a global community of people who are curious, ambitious, and willing to think differently. I am deeply grateful to every guest, subscriber, and member of our team who helped make this possible."

New episodes are released every Friday and feature entrepreneurs, executives, bestselling authors, innovators, and industry experts from Hawai□i and around the world. Rather than concentrating only on polished success stories, Covert encourages guests to share the pivotal decisions, challenges, and lessons that shaped their work.

The podcast has featured leaders and experts across business, technology, finance, publishing, renewable energy, and personal development. Its conversations explore subjects ranging from artificial intelligence and the future of work to entrepreneurship, pricing strategy, human-centered leadership, digital fraud, and authority building.

The Covert Code also partnered with Forbes Books to present “Authority as a Growth Strategy,” a special educational series examining how authorship, visibility, and thought leadership can help CEOs and business leaders create lasting influence.

“The greatest reward has been hearing how these conversations have helped people discover a new idea, reconsider a challenge, or take the next step in their own journey,” continued Covert. “Two hundred fifty thousand subscribers is an incredible achievement, but it also represents 250,000 reasons to keep learning, asking better questions, and creating conversations that matter. We are just getting started.”

Covert is the founder of Covert Communication, a Honolulu-based digital marketing and technology agency, and the author of The Covert Code: Mastering the Art of Digital Marketing, published by Forbes Books. Her latest book, The Solar Coaster, launched at RE+ in September 2025.
