IT Governance becomes a COBIT® 5 Accredited Training Organisation

/EINPresswire.com/ IT Governance, the single-source provider of IT governance and COBIT® products and services, has today announced that it has officially become a COBIT® 5 Accredited Training Organisation (ATO). This status was awarded to the company by certification body APMG. IT Governance delivers the accredited COBIT® 5 Foundation course in London every month. The next two-day course takes place on 21-22 February and the last few places remaining are currently available at a special price of just under £630.

Alan Calder, CEO of IT Governance, says, "We are delighted to become a COBIT® 5 ATO. Our COBIT® Foundation training course has been one of our best attended courses over the years not least due to the skills and knowledge of our ISACA- qualified tutor. The delegate pass rate has always been very high and often delegates have achieved 100% pass rate at the ISACA- exam.

"Becoming a COBIT® 5 ATO is another testament to our professionalism and quality of the course. We are committed to ensuring that every attendee gets the best out of the course and pass the exam at the first attempt."

The COBIT® 5 Foundation course carefully explains the elements of the COBIT® 5 framework using a case study and interactive presentations. It will help professionals build their knowledge and understanding of the COBIT® 5 guidance in order to be able to understand the governance and management of enterprise IT.
Course bookings can be made immediately online at www.itgovernance.co.uk/shop/p-479.aspx.
