KineMaster Continues to Narrow Divide Between Desktop and Mobile Video Editing

KineMaster v8.2 introduces desktop-style multi-selection, allowing editors to select, move, and lock multiple timeline tracks at once.

KineMaster v8.2 brings generations of editors closer together

SEOUL, GYEONGGI, SOUTH KOREA, September 23, 2026 / EINPresswire.com/ -- KineMaster Corporation (KOSDAQ: 139670), a global leader in mobile video editing with app downloads exceeding 750 million, brings together editing veterans and next-gen storytellers with desktop-style Multi-Select timeline controls.

The latest update to the KineMaster app brings desktop selection mechanics to mobile devices, giving desktop-trained editors and mobile-native creators a shared workspace ideal for complex post-production on the go.

MULTI-SELECT: WHAT TO KNOW

Manual multi-selection: The editor's pick as to what gets moved or removed Select All: Select everything on the Timeline for re-timing or removal
Select specific layer type: Change position or delete only one kind of layer
Duplicate: The entire selection can be duplicated
Align to Playhead: Snap all selected layers to the Playhead
Pin: Fix the position of selected layers

Multi-select is free to use. KineMaster does not lock tools behind subscription requirements.

Multi-Select is more than just a legacy desktop tool. When used in conjunction with KineMaster's industry-leading mobile editing tools, creators can accomplish incredible cuts in a fraction of the time, without ever setting foot in an office.

Alpha Channel Video Editing & Export: Create precise transparent video directly on your mobile device for professional motion graphics.

On-Device AI Tools: Speed up tedious post-production tasks with tools like automated background removal, speech-to-text captioning, dynamic audio cleanup, and intelligent tracking.

Over 75,000 Creative Assets: Tap into an expansive built-in Asset Store featuring high-quality music, sound effects, fonts, transitions, visual effects, stock video, and custom AI plug-ins to elevate any project.

"Mobile-native Gen Z creators, who grew up creating directly on smartphones, are moving into professional careers alongside seasoned pros with a PC-centric approach," said Frankie Song, CEO of KineMaster Corporation. "KineMaster offers a place where veteran expectations and fresh eyes share a workspace, delivering top-tier tools on mobile devices."

KineMaster v8.2 provides an intuitive editing environment for creators across skill levels. Combining desktop-PC precision with fast, intuitive mobile tools, KineMaster v8.2 bridges the gap between generations of video editors. Industry pros get the NLE timeline control they expect, while mobile-native storytellers gain the speed to execute ambitious ideas.
