My Mobile Fans, LLC, a forerunner in the affordable app development marketplace, is pleased to announce the recent acquisition of Branded Business Apps, a Denver, CO – based mobile app development firm. As part of My Mobile Fans' continued expansion, this acquisition enhances the company's future growth and service to small businesses, organizations and non-profits of all sizes.

Launched in 2011, My Mobile Fans not only offers affordable mobile apps for the individual, non-profit and small business environment, but also specializes in the creation of custom mobile apps and mobile sites for enterprise level demands. These multi-faceted offerings boil down to one common purpose.

“Our aim is to assist brands, businesses and organizations in the creation of an inexpensive mobile strategy while maximizing their impact and interaction with fans, customers and members,” says Andy Dalton, President of My Mobile Fans. “More important to us than creating the next best piece of technology is making sure that our clients are taking full advantage of the mobile environment.”

My Mobile Fans' platform allows clients to create their own Android, iPhone, iPad and HTML5 app all from one user friendly CMS. And, with the ability to manage their app in real time, clients can bypass the long and tedious process of updating content within their app, which is currently the reality for custom applications.

Industries such as restaurants, bars, entertainers, sports teams, trainers, salons, events, conferences, churches, dealerships, Real Estate, magazines, health care, campuses, trucking, recycling, schools, and travel are all implementing various My Mobile Fans offerings to achieve their mobile marketing objectives.

My Mobile Fans

“Mobile Apps aren’t just for video games, big business and main stream media any more.”

My Mobile Fans is a mobile app development company focused on providing affordable mobile apps for individuals, small businesses and organizations of all sizes.
