/EINPresswire.com/ Yucatan's most elite residential area improves the community after concluding luxury projects.

MERIDA, Yucatan – The lifestyle of Las Fincas is focused around multi-generational living and sharing experiences with family. These newly built houses in Yucatan have made it possible for locals and travelers alike to spend time at the pool, walk through well-groomed parks and trails, and contribute to a finer living. Just recently, the living has been made easier now that the development has finished up certain amenities for the 200 families.

The company extended their focus beyond the individual homes in Merida by building up more outdoor community centered features. These include parks designed for children to play, lakes, and botanical gardens for adults to peruse. Las Fincas' vision for the development sets it apart from other elite communities in Yucatan, as it offers landscapes designed specifically for outdoor fitness.

Marketing Director Lisa Sharpe speaks on behalf of the Las Fincas team when she boasts, "We are excited to have finalized all of the community amenities for our families." Additionally, residents have 24 hour access to the community gym, pool, and tennis courts. The outdoor offerings and CasaClub not only represent upper living, but also shape a healthy Yucatan lifestyle.
