TORONTO, ONTARIO, CANADA, September 28, 2026 / EINPresswire.com/ -- Learn English Fast® has launched a structured English-Tagalog program for learning English that combines English-Tagalog bilingual audiobooks, English-Tagalog bilingual books, bilingual learning materials, vocabulary activities, music, verb study and monthly progress tracking to support consistent, independent English practice.

The program was created by Angeline Pompei, a Canadian TEFL-certified English teacher, artist and former aerospace engineer. Angeline Pompei is of Italian and Chinese-Filipino heritage, and her multicultural background has played an important role in shaping the ideas behind Learn English Fast®.

In her New to The Street interview in New York, featured on Bloomberg and Fox, Angeline Pompei discussed how her Filipino background, her experiences traveling, and her observations of bilingual communities influenced the way she thinks about language learning and opportunity.

Her mother was born and raised in the Philippines, and Angeline Pompei remembers visiting family there as a child. One of her strongest memories is of her uncle peacefully singing for hours with a karaoke machine on the island of Maripipi in Biliran Province. Years later, music became part of her own approach to language learning.

In that interview, Angeline Pompei also discussed the Philippines as an example of the opportunities that can come with widespread English proficiency. Angeline Pompei believes the country demonstrates how speaking English alongside a native language can help people access international business and online work opportunities while remaining connected to their own language and culture.

The English-Tagalog format is designed to give Tagalog speakers immediate access to meaning while they study English. Learners can read English alongside Tagalog, listen to bilingual audio, and use the translations as a reference while building familiarity with English vocabulary, pronunciation and sentence structure.

Learn English Fast® is available in nine bilingual language combinations and is designed to help adults make English part of everyday life.

A central part of the program is Angeline Pompei's 30 Verbs and Pronouns course, which uses a gradual, visual approach to English grammar: one verb per week and one pronoun at a time.

Look, Listen, Read Out Loud and Write. Within 30 Verbs and Pronouns, Angeline Pompei uses her learning method, "Look, Listen, Read Out Loud and Write."

Look at the bilingual text and repeated sentence patterns. The translation helps learners understand the meaning immediately, while repetition reinforces vocabulary and makes it easier to visually recognize sentence structure and changes in English verb conjugation.

Listen to the bilingual audio while following the text to hear English pronunciation and connect what is heard with its meaning.

Read Out Loud after listening to practice pronunciation and build confidence speaking English sentences independently.

Write the sentences to reinforce vocabulary, sentence structure and spelling.

The repetition is intentional. Learners see the same sentence patterns several times so they can compare how English changes across different verb forms instead of trying to memorize many conjugations at once.

Angeline Pompei developed the method from her own experience learning languages and from finding it difficult to study multiple verbs, pronouns and conjugations at the same time. Her approach breaks grammar into smaller pieces that can be repeated until the patterns become more familiar.

“I created the 30 Verbs and Pronouns method to make language learning easier through pattern recognition, especially for visual learners like me,” said Angeline Pompei.

English Tagalog Word Searches

Beyond verb study, Learn English Fast® encourages adults to stay in regular contact with English through English-Tagalog bilingual books and audiobooks, vocabulary word searches with bilingual audio, bilingual verb charts, journal writing and music for learning English.

The English-Tagalog bilingual audiobooks allow learners to listen while following the text, helping them connect English pronunciation with meaning. The English-Tagalog bilingual books provide a visual reference so learners can compare both languages while reading and reviewing vocabulary.

The program is built around consistency rather than long daily study sessions. Adults have work, family and other responsibilities, so even on busy days, listening carefully to one song, reviewing a few sentences or completing a short activity can still represent progress.

A monthly progress calendar helps learners stay consistent and see how often they practice English throughout the month.

The bilingual audiobook program is available for a one-time payment of US$34.99 per language, while the PDF library is available for US$24.99 per language.

For Tagalog speakers, the program includes English-Tagalog bilingual audiobooks, English-Tagalog bilingual books, English-Tagalog vocabulary activities, bilingual verb materials and monthly progress tracking.

Learn English Fast® currently offers materials pairing English with Spanish, French, Italian, Portuguese, German, Polish, Japanese, Korean and Tagalog.

The bilingual format is especially useful for independent learners because it allows them to understand meaning immediately and use bilingual audio to hear pronunciation without needing a teacher beside them during every study session.

Angeline Pompei's music album, Verbiage, her English-learning songs and her bilingual books are available free on her personal website. The album Verbiage features songs focused on verbs, vocabulary and English-language structures, giving learners another way to keep English present in their daily routine.

Why Angeline Pompei Created Learn English Fast®

Angeline Pompei's path into language education began outside the traditional language-learning industry. She first trained as an aerospace engineer and later became an entrepreneur, worked in marketing and skincare, earned her TEFL certification as an English teacher and began creating bilingual learning materials.

Her own experience learning languages strongly influenced the materials she developed. She wanted immediate access to translation, audio to follow while reading, repetition, visual grammar patterns and resources that adults could use independently.
