Salsa Kings® to Open of New Salsa Dance Studio in Miami Lakes, Florida

Salsa Kings® is opening a Miami Lakes, Florida, studio offering Cuban-style salsa classes for adults. No experience or partner is required.

MIAMI LAKES, FL, UNITED STATES, September 28, 2026 / EINPresswire.com/ -- Salsa Kings®, a Miami-based salsa dance academy that traces its history to one of the first salsa studios in Miami, is opening a new salsa dance studio in Miami Lakes, Florida. The Miami Lakes studio will offer structured group salsa classes for adults. The classes are open to beginners with no prior dance experience and to students who come without a partner.

The new location brings Salsa Kings® instruction to adults in Miami Lakes. According to the company, classes focus on Casino, commonly known as Cuban-style salsa. The instruction emphasizes rhythm, partner connection and social dancing.

Class Structure at the Miami Lakes Studio

According to Salsa Kings®, each class at the Miami Lakes studio includes:

- A warm-up to help students get comfortable with rhythm and movement
- Step-by-step instruction to build salsa fundamentals
- Partner work to practice timing, connection, and leading or following
- Partner rotations, so students dance with different people throughout the class

The company states that students need no previous salsa or dance experience and may attend on their own. The company recommends comfortable clothing that allows easy movement, along with sneakers or comfortable dance shoes.

New students who create a Salsa Kings® account receive their first group class and the company's Salsa Video Course for Beginners at no cost.

Leadership and Instruction

Andres Fernandez, owner and director of Salsa Kings®, has more than 20 years of experience in salsa and the dance industry, according to the company. Salsa Kings® states that Fernandez's aim is to make salsa accessible to everyone, especially beginners, by creating a welcoming environment for people of any background or skill level.

Fernandez leads the company alongside a leadership team that includes Rafael Valle, Tanya Soto, Mike Osborne, Cassandra Malanche, Pablo Peña and Galo Paredes.

According to the company, instructors break each element down step by step so students can learn at a comfortable pace. Salsa Kings® student Aselya A described one instructor's approach:

"Ralph is truly the best! He knows Salsa better than anyone else I've learned from. He's so much more than a teacher, he's like a mentor who genuinely cares about your growth. He has such a gift for explaining even the trickiest footwork in a way that just makes sense, and he's endlessly patient no matter where you're starting from. You can feel how much love and passion he has for what he does, and it makes every class feel special. If you want to really learn Salsa, not just get by, I couldn't recommend him more. □"

Community Beyond the Classroom

Salsa Kings® describes learning salsa as more than memorizing steps. According to the company, students enroll to learn in a beginner-friendly environment, meet new people, build confidence on the dance floor and have a social activity to look forward to each week.

Beyond regular classes, the company offers students socials, events, workshops, VIP events, dance groups, community activities and a yearly Salsa Cruise. The company's stated mission is to "deliver excellence in a fun, healing culture by helping people build relationships and exercise interpersonal connection through Latin dance." Its motto, #BetterTogether, summarizes that goal.

One student pointed to the option of attending classes on more than one day of the week. Salsa Kings® student Kayla M said:

"I just love that if Im not able to make it class on the days I normally go, I do have the option of going on other days too □□□□If you want to learn how to dance salsa, and have fun doing it-one thing Salsa Kings will do is get you right!"

Background

According to the company, Salsa Kings® began in 1998 when Elba, originally from Cuba, saw that Miami had no true salsa academies teaching people how to dance, even though the city is close to Cuba in culture. She opened one of the first salsa studios in Miami. The company, now led by Fernandez, lists studio locations in Doral, Homestead, Kendall, Cooper City, Cutler Bay, Weston, Miami and Miami Lakes. It serves adults across Miami-Dade County and Broward County, and it states that it plans further expansion to make salsa more accessible and convenient across Florida.
