/EINPresswire.com/ Houston based makeup studio offers the first luxury organic makeup

HOUSTON, TEXAS - Edward Sanchez Vanity Lounge stays true to its Travel the World concept with welcoming Kjaer Weiss created by Danish born Kirsten Kjaer Weis makeup artist based in New York. The organic makeup line features three products and are housed in a modern metal reusable container. Kjaer Weis is Certified Organic by the CCPB, the Italian organic certifying authority. Made with the highest quality safe, natural and organic ingredients without compromising on luxury or contemporary design

The rise of organic makeup is on the rise however there is little choices out there for consumers who desire prestige and luxury organic makeup. Kjaer Weis has solved that problem with its high end chic cream blush, eye shadow and lip tint, which are housed in red lacquered boxes that are reminiscent of little jewelry boxes from Cartier. Each refillable compact is made of metal and slides open to showcase the amazing colors.

"It has taken a few months of research and testing for us to finally discover a true certified organic makeup that was luxurious enough for our customers and feel fortunate that Kirsten Kjaer Weis believed in our unique concept of the Vanity Lounge to showcase her beautiful lineup" said Diane Caplan, Owner.

Kjaer Weis is set to arrive on Vanity Lounge shelves March 1, 2013 and will be available for retail as well as used by celebrity makeup artist Edward Sanchez and his team of artist while performing makeup services to customers and on location for media, bridal and fashion show events.
