Youllogy Launches to Help Families Prepare for Life's Hardest Conversations

Leave A Plan, Not A Puzzle

PARK CITY, UT, UNITED STATES, September 29, 2026 / EINPresswire.com/ -- Youllogy, a new pre-death planning and legacy platform, today announced its public launch of youllogy.com. The platform gives individuals and families a structured way to organize final wishes, preserve personal stories, and prepare loved ones for the practical and emotional work that follows a death — turning a topic many people avoid into a guided, manageable process.

What Youllogy Offers

Youllogy brings together a set of tools designed to make end-of-life planning approachable rather than overwhelming:

- Obituary and Eulogy Builder — guided tools to write and preserve a personal life story
- Contact Management — a central place to organize the people who you want notified of your passing
- Memorial Walls — shared spaces where you, family and friends can gather memories, photos and tributes
- Wellness Checks — a way for loved ones to know that you are OK
- Pre-Death Planning Tools — structured guidance for organizing final wishes and key decisions

Founder's Note:

"Most people put off end-of-life planning because it feels overwhelming, or because there's no clear place to start," said Kieth, founder of Youllogy. "We built Youllogy to make that process manageable — a little at a time — so families aren't left guessing during one of the hardest moments of their lives. Your family will be grateful you did this."

About Youllogy:

Youllogy is a pre-death planning and legacy platform that helps people organize their final wishes, tell their story, and give their family a gift of preparedness. The platform is available now at youllogy.com.
