Camelback Luxury Spotlights Single-Level Estate in Paradise Valley

7825 N Invergordon Place brings a one-acre setting and considered design to the conversation around Paradise Valley's luxury new-construction market.

PARADISE VALLEY, AZ, UNITED STATES, September 29, 2026 / EINPresswire.com/ -- A full acre, a single-level residence and direct Mummy Mountain views establish the setting at 7825 N Invergordon Place, the focus of Camelback Luxury's latest property announcement. Positioned at the end of a private six-home cul-de-sac, the 2026 estate brings approximately 7,810 square feet into a plan that balances spaces for gathering with the practical requirements of daily life.

Stone, wood and pitched rooflines define the single-level architecture of 7825 N Invergordon Place, a 2026 estate set on one acre in Paradise Valley.

Paradise Valley enters the fall market with an upward townwide value trend:
Zillow's Paradise Valley market data shows an 11.7% increase in its Home Value Index over the year through August 31, 2026. That townwide measure provides a backdrop rather than a valuation for any individual estate; Camelback Luxury's focus at Invergordon is the specific combination of land, architecture and everyday usability.

"In this segment, I put more weight on how the land, architecture and floor plan work together than on a long list of finishes," said JW Richie, founder and CEO of Camelback Luxury. "At Invergordon, the full acre, single-level plan and self-contained guest house give the property a clear identity. Those are qualities that shape daily life long after the first showing."

A pool, outdoor kitchen and covered entertaining pavilion extend the living spaces outdoors at 7825 N Invergordon Place in Paradise Valley.

At Invergordon, that relationship begins with the approach. A gated motor court introduces a residence that combines farmhouse-inspired architecture with contemporary interiors, while the single-level arrangement keeps the principal living spaces on one plane. A wine cellar, custom bar and outdoor living areas create distinct settings for entertaining rather than relying on one oversized formal room.

The kitchen is organized around an oversized island and Miele appliances, with a separate preparation kitchen and pantry supporting the work behind a gathering. It is a practical distinction: the main kitchen can remain part of the occasion while preparation and service have their own space.

An attached guest house extends that emphasis on usable independence, incorporating a full kitchen, walk-in closet, and its own washer and dryer. The seven-car garage gives vehicle storage a defined place within the estate, while an elevated view deck offers a different vantage point from the ground-level outdoor living areas.

Integrated home technology operates behind the architectural presentation. Control4 automation brings lighting, climate, audio, shades, security and entry into a common system, complementing a layout designed to accommodate both entertaining and the quieter routines between occasions.

The estate is offered at $11,899,000. Photography and further details are available on the 7825 N Invergordon Place property page, with inquiries directed to JW Richie at Camelback Luxury.
