

Get party-ready with disco pants from SheLikes

/EINPresswire.com/ UK (submitpressrelease123.com - press release) Online clothes retailer SheLikes has the perfect item for girls that just want to have fun – disco pants. It's the latest trend to hit the catwalks and looks like its set to stay.

Disco pants may sound like something from the 1980s but they were all over the catwalk at New York Fashion Week, with the likes of infamous designer Diane von Furstenberg showcasing them in her new collection.

For the aspiring fashionista who loves to wear the latest styles and hottest trends, disco pants are the perfect wardrobe staple to wear on fun nights out to dance the night away. The disco pants trend may not be a new innovation, but fashion trends often tend to go around in circles.

Disco pants from SheLikes are part of the current Disco Dancer trend. These shiny metallic trousers can be dressed down with canvas pumps and an oversized slogan Tee for a cool daytime look, or dressed up with a sparkly sequin peplum top for a glamorous night out on the tiles.

For girls who want to show off their personality and add some edgy attitude to their look, SheLikes has a selection of spiked disco pants. Teamed with a faux leather studded jacket and biker boots will add some serious rock chick vibes.

Nick Puri, Managing Director, said: "Here at SheLikes, we're committed to offering the latest styles and up-to-date fashions at purse-friendly prices. Aspiring dancing queens will love our new disco pants trend. We'd recommend adding a shimmering high neck crop top and a smart blazer, along with skyscraper high heels to create the perfect party outfit."

For ladies struggling for inspiration for a new on-trend party outfit this weekend, SheLikes has a great selection of ladies going out tops for sale that will look great with a pair of this season's disco pants. The online retailer also has blazers for women available in a range of size and colour.

For an affordable yet stylish outfit, shoppers should visit the SheLikes website.
