/EINPresswire.com/ DentalEd will facilitate dentists incorporating implant procedures into their practice

London, Ontario (CANADA) -February 25, 2013 -- Hands On Training Institute, a leading provider of hands-on dental training in the USA and Canada, announces its newest product release, DentalEd, which was soft-launched at the American Dental Association (ADA) trade show on October 18, 2012 in San Francisco, CA.

DentalEd is a leading-edge, dental educational App developed by the Hands On Training Institute and Dr. Ken Hebel. This App is for implant dentists and is available on the App Store. DentalEd works with an iPad®.

The free version of DentalEd gives dentists immediate access to two implant surgery videos. For implant dentists who purchase the digital version of the 11-day Implant Mini-Residency program, they simply register their license through the DentalEd App and download the program onto their iPad®.

The full-version App is an educational resource for every Implant Dentist. It contains over 3,200 images, 400-plus narrated video clips, live surgical videos, photographs, custom narrated animations and notes that are documented by leading dentists. Notes can be customized to a user's learning experience. App users can also view over four hours of hands-on training exercises performed on training models. A demo of DentalEd can be viewed here:

The program is organized into four separate volumes that serve as a complete comprehensive program:

1. Volume 1: Diagnosis & Treatment Planning for Implant Dentistry
2. Volume 2: Implant Prosthetics

3. Volume 3: Implant Surgery

4. Volume 4: Bone Grafting for Implant Dentistry

"We created this revolutionary App in response to course graduates' feedback," said Dr. Ken Hebel, co-founder and director of Hands OnTraining Institute, prosthodontic specialist and leading instructor for over 25 years. "This App enables dentists to maintain the integrity of the original training experience and serves as an on-demand refresher course. Over 95% of our graduates successfully integrate implant dentistry into their practice and DentalEd will facilitate incorporating implant procedures, resulting in more comprehensive patient care and increased revenue opportunities. It's not just a series of clinical notes, a textbook, or high cost DVDs. This App is a multimedia presentation of an entire implant training program. The value is incredible."

Designed by Dr. Reena Gajjar, Co-founder and Director of Development at Hands On Training Institute, DentalEd closely mirrors the classroom content and is simple enough even for the most technology-challenged participants to use. "Dentists are visual learners. This cutting-edge technology creates an environment that enhances the dentist's ability to learn in a new and revolutionary format," said Dr. Gajjar. "The combination of graphics, text, clinical photographs, live videos and animations in this incredible resource will change the future of dental education. DentalEd is a paradigm shift to the next level of technology." Benefits of DentalEd content
