

Using the IT Governance ISO27001 ISMS Documentation Toolkit is about investing in information security

/EINPresswire.com/ IT Governance, the information security and ISO27001-compliance experts, have reported that customers of the No 3 ISO27001 ISMS Toolkit are not just purchasing a product, but they are making a worthwhile information security investment. A demo version of the toolkit is available from www.itgovernance.co.uk/shop/p-970.aspx.

Alan Calder, CEO of IT Governance, says, "More and more companies are now concerned about information security not least because of the growing number of data breaches and the appearance of new cyber threats. Pressure from governments and clients is another reason for taking the matter more seriously than ever before. The question for most companies already is not 'if' to invest, but it's more about 'how to invest' in information security.

"Companies that are in the process of implementing an information security management system compliant with the ISO27001 standard, are well aware of the huge number of internal policies and procedures they need to create as part of this comprehensive project.

"Our No 3 Comprehensive ISO 27001 ISMS Toolkit is a great investment for any organisation and information security professional. It is a very practical resource which is designed to help organisations improve productivity, avoid dead-end trial and errors and, gain ISO27001 certification with the least amount of time and cost."

The No 3 ISO27001 Comprehensive ISMS Toolkit is precisely tailored to the requirements of ISO27001 and contains all documents that organisations will need in order to achieve ISO27001 certification. The toolkit also includes copies of the three key standards; ISO27001, ISO27002 and ISO27005, as well the latest version of vsRisk™, the software tool that can reduce time for conducting a risk assessment by up to 90%. More information is available from www.itgovernance.co.uk/shop/p-970.aspx.

The No 3 ISO27001 Comprehensive ISMS Toolkit comes with a unique document support service which enables users of the tool to get answers to documentation queries within 24 hours – and at no extra cost. There is also a free updating service meaning that organisations will benefit from 12 months of updates to the toolkit, again at no extra cost.

Organisations can purchase the No 3 ISO27001 Comprehensive ISMS Toolkit from
