New York, NY (March 12, 2013)— BizBash, the leading trade media for event and meeting organizers and event marketers, has been awarded the Best Subject-Related Package Award by the ABM, the association of business information and media companies, at the 59th annual Jesse H. Neal Awards. BizBash was among 184 finalists selected for these prestigious awards. The Jesse H. Neal Awards acknowledge excellence in the editorial field of both online and print business media publications.

“Led by editor in chief Chad Kaydo and executive editor Anna Sekula, our editorial team has done outstanding work, and I could not be more proud,” said BizBash C.E.O. and founder David Adler. “I am thrilled to see the high quality of work produced by our editorial team recognized in such a prestigious format.”

The Best Subject-Related Package category recognizes editorial excellence of an in-depth package of stories with subjects relevant to the audience. BizBash was recognized for its Building Better Meetings package, which contained articles featuring tips, trends, and innovation in the meeting industry.

This is the first Neal Award for BizBash. BizBash was additionally a finalist in the categories of Best Web site: BizBash.com, Best Cross-Platform Package: Event Innovators 2012, and Best News Coverage: Hurricane Sandy. For additional information about BizBash visit bizbash.com.
