

The Continental Elise Range – Sleeker & Slimmer for the Ultimate Urban Chef

/EINPresswire.com/ UK (Submitpressrelease123.com - press release) Rangemaster, the pioneering British manufacturing company, is proud to report the huge success of its Elise 100 range cooker.

Since 2012 the narrower 100cm width expanded the highly popular existing Rangemaster Elise collection, in response to an increasing customer demand for more compact appliances to cater for an urban lifestyle, where space is limited.

The quintessential continental aesthetic of the Elise collection has been a popular choice for budding chefs and gastronomes alike since its launch in 2010, and the streamlined 100cm width ensures that more new kitchens and kitchen renovations can benefit from the unique styling and superior cooking performance of this range.

Rangemaster's design team has ensured that the Elise 100 gives premium performance that defies its compact size - the 150 litre combined oven capacity makes it the ideal appliance for families, with rapid response for quick heating, fanned grilling and cooking, encased in a design conscious, statement exterior.

The chic continental design offers striking chrome trims and rotary knobs, attractive soft-brushed finish door handles and solid doors. The Elise 100 is also available in a range of irresistible colourways, including gloss black, cream, stainless steel, china blue and Orange - Rangemaster's latest trend-led shade.
