The Houston Social Source operates under the philosophy that while social networking is an amazing tool, in the world of online dating nobody ever looks like their profile picture and false information is often provided, so it is best to go old school and meet in person.

"At Houston Social Source we don't match, we don't harmonize...we SOCIALIZE!" says Huthmacher. "Since we host various live events each month, it was important that Houston Social Source partner with an identity verification provider that fit our on-the-go lifestyle. After looking at our options, we choose Pistevo because its free mobile app is perfect for in-person meet ups and its searches have a low price-point that all out members can afford."
