

Parcel2Go proud to feature in 2013 Tamebay Guide

/EINPresswire.com/ UK (submitpressrelease123.com - press release) The UK's largest online parcel delivery specialist Parcel2Go is showcased in the newly-released Tamebay Guide for 2013.

The online guide - compiled by the people behind the website Tamebay.com -brings together details of tools and services offered by a vast range of providers in one place, allowing eBay sellers and SMEs involved in e-commerce the opportunity to find new ways to streamline and grow their businesses.

The downloadable guide has been produced for three years running and for 2013, the company has also created a brand new website to act as a permanent online resource for small businesses. The Tamebay Guide website groups business tools and services from contributors into five sections - design services, finance, management, marketplaces and shipping. Details on the ways in which Parcel2Go can help small and medium-sized companies to improve their parcel despatch operations can be found in this final section.

A number of Parcel2Go's courier partners whose services are available to book through the Bolton-based parcel delivery specialist are also featured in the 2013 guide, including MyHermes, DHL and Collect+.

Richard Mercer, marketing director at Parcel2Go, said: "Following its launch a few years ago, the Tamebay Guide has proved to be a valuable resource for small businesses, in particular firms selling through eBay and Amazon.

"We're proud to feature once again and invite any representatives from small and medium-sized businesses who wish to learn more about the services available, including information on Parcel2Go's same day delivery options, to get in touch with a member of our team."

As well as offering a wide range of domestic and cheap international shipping services, Parcel2Go has also developed a range of bulk shipping tools, designed to make life even easier for e-commerce businesses by streamlining the process of arranging multiple parcel collections.
