

An Open Letter to the Secretary of Education: Your Education Policy is Insane!

/EINPresswire.com/ It is true that repeating the same mistakes again and again is insanity. Our government's education policy is insane!

The politicians keep refining laws and keep introducing new laws to improve society by making sure society is safe from emotionally challenged behavior. More and more laws are passed to control and manage emotionally challenged behavior. Trying to control emotionally challenged behavior is like a house is on fire and what our lawmakers do is try to remove the heat and the smoke; without addressing the real problem of putting out the fire. As a result nothing changes. The time has come for our leaders to realize that the main law they must enact is the creation of a compulsory subject that removes emotional baggage from the brains of the young and old.

Our education experts keep trying to improve regular education and while there is now much talk of the need for emotional intelligence education; those who research emotional intelligence keep researching emotional intelligence and those researching wisdom keep researching wisdom without realizing that emotional intelligence at the highest developed stage is none other than wisdom. Science must realize that religion has a head start on wisdom and it is time for religion, science, education and philosophy to come together to create a subject that makes the brain free of all emotional baggage.

Our wisdom experts keep trying to figure out wisdom with little progress; it is time for them to wake up to the fact that wisdom will never be found in a concrete manner as it is just a cover word for its attributes. Wisdom is the wealth of intelligence and just like wealth exists only in its attributes wisdom too exists only in its attributes. We at the 4th R Foundation put wisdom under the microscope and like everyone else found wisdom consists of its attribute. Where each attribute also contains in itself every other attribute of wisdom. We further found that each and every attribute of wisdom is made up of selflessness! Thus wisdom education is selflessness education which is emotional baggage removal brain therapy.

What is needed is a massive program to remove the real cause of emotionally challenged behavior. We need to develop ways to clean up the brains on a massive scale of emotional baggage; the real cause of all this mess in society. By removing the emotional baggage not only will we put an end to emotionally challenged behavior we will make the society wise. It will be like a business that is losing money turns around and starts to make huge profits. It will be like achieving the aims of our sages of science, philosophy and religion making society free of crime, depression, abuse, drug addictions, divorce, greed, corruption etc.

We have approached the US education department many times and have not received even a single response. The time is soon coming when we will come to Washington to occupy the White House. Our government leaders cannot fix the education mess the way education is understood by Washington; we are showing them the real cause of all this education mess and even how it can be fixed. If the government thinks that our solutions are ineffective or even crazy; they must prove it or take action.
