"When you hear your child has been arrested, it seems like the floor drops out from under you. You are angry, scared and maybe not sure exactly what to do. You should get the right guy."

Having worked in Juvenile Law for over 25 years, Guy Seligman knows what's involved in getting children a second chance. Too often, parents feel that the Juvenile system is easier and less of a problem for their kids future. Guy Seligman knows that juvenile criminal cases can keep young people from getting into school or getting any job that matters. Because your child is charged as a juvenile, It makes it easier to try to divert them out of the system. This diversion is a first step in getting a case dismissed.

Guy feels very strongly about his desire to help young people, "It is not "Tough love" to keep a child in the Juvenile JIF (Juvenile Intervention Facility). If your child has been arrested, it is important to get the child out of there are many juveniles crowded into the Jail and safety is not always guaranteed. No matter what your child did, in smoking or stealing or what would not have been considered a "big deal", get your child home unless he or she is completely unmanageable."

If your child was arrested and you need a juvenile justice lawyer right now contact Guy at 954-760-7600
