Lexidy Title Loans, located in San Diego, specializes in auto title lending and offers competitive lending programs to car owners in need of fast cash. By providing expert advice for a typically confusing and overwhelming money lending transaction, Lexidy customers are able to fix short-term cash issues.

Car title loans are sometimes called a "pink slip loan" or "auto pawn loan". By physically handing over the title (pink slip) to their car, the owner is loaned cash, but they are still able to drive their car while paying back the money. An auto pawn loan is different in the fact that the vehicle is actually left with the lender, so the borrower cannot drive the vehicle until the loan is paid back.

While many lending companies in the industry will evaluate a person's credit report, job history, and financial history, Lexidy is different because they strictly focus on the value of the car. Lexidy does not run any personal credit reports or verify employment. This "no hassle" approach makes life easier for customers and is why Lexidy is recognized as a top company in the industry.

Lexidy Title Loans was created due to the lack of a competitive and fair local auto title lending company in San Diego. They understand the hardships that their clients have to deal with and have made the lending process easy and comfortable. The service provided is viewed as very convenient since a Lexidy representative will come in-person to their clients to complete the transaction. This allows for flexibility with scheduling and helps busy people to efficiently complete an important financial transaction without needlessly driving across town where their needs may or may not be met.
