LOMBARD, IL -- TradeTec Skyline has a special offer available to new rental customers in 2013. Effective immediately and through the month of June, the trade show display company is offering FREE FREIGHT to anywhere in the U.S.

"This is the perfect time for exhibitors to think about their next trade show event and plan their display needs. Freight costs can really add up and impact the overall exhibition budget. Since TradeTec is shipping anywhere in the United States, the free freight rental promotion can shave hundreds of dollars off exhibiting costs. Clients can save the money they'd have spent on shipping costs or use it to add extra features to the exhibit that might have otherwise been skipped over in favor of cost savings," explained Ken Buckman, CEO and Founder of TradeTec Skyline (www.ttskyline.com).

The free freight rental promotion is available to new customers only and includes free freight both to and from the exhibition space with the rental of any exhibit from TradeTec Skyline. Assisting with shipping is nothing new to the Chicago trade show booth and exhibit design firm. The company routinely assists their clients through all stages of the exhibit design process from initial consultation through delivery of the end product. TradeTec works hard to develop and maintain strong client relationships that last well beyond a specific show.

"It's rare for a client to come to us with a complete exhibit design in mind. New exhibitors in particular tend to get overwhelmed by all the choices available but we're here to help. We love working with new clients, helping them design exhibits that meet their needs and their budget. I always recommend clients visit the Portfolio Pages on our website to get an idea of the kinds of exhibits that TradeTec offers," noted Buckman.

TradeTec Skyline is much more than a Chicago trade show display and exhibit designer. The company provides complete branding service by combining their innovative exhibit designs with corporate events and targeted marketing campaigns.
