

Quality Training Systems is Proud to Announce: John Taylor to Perform PER-005 Pre-Audits

/EINPresswire.com/ Chicago, IL - May 8, 2013 - Quality Training Systems (QTS) is pleased to announce that John Taylor will be performing PER-005 Pre-Audits to assist utilities in assuring compliance with the new NERC Standard. John recently left NERC, where he managed the Continuing Education Program for four years, was First Chair of the PER-005 Standard Drafting Team, and co-authored the Reliability Standard Auditor Worksheet (RSAW) for the PER-005 Standard.

"John is very passionate about the opportunity to continue his work and assist the industry in embracing the Systematic Approach to Training," said Stefanie Pressl, Executive Vice-President of Quality Training Systems. "We are very pleased that John is sharing his expertise and immense knowledge with members of the industry."

About Quality Training Systems

QTS has provided training and performance support services for electric utilities since 1997. The company's primary focus has been the design and development of system operator training programs and the development of Quality Training Database (QTD™). QTD™ is used by the majority of utilities in the US and Canada to manage the records required to satisfy the rigorous requirements of NERC standard PER-005.
