

Thousands of players eagerly await Haypi Monster Version 1.3

/EINPresswire.com/ Orange Eggs, Purple Eggs, Blue Eggs, Plain Eggs. Any of these Magic Eggs have a chance of unleashing legendary monsters—the rarest, most-powerful creatures of all in Haypi Monster, a top-grossing MMORPG on iOS that has been downloaded a few million times by players from around the world.

The thousands of active players who fill Haypi Monster's 68 servers have long-anticipated the release of Version 1.3, the largest update the game has ever seen. What makes the latest update so unique is the fact that it follows a large-scale feedback contest, in which hundreds of long-time players submitted their own ideas and critiques on the game. The latest Haypi Monster update tantalizes players with raid activities they can engage in with real-life friends, a book and scroll disenchant system, and Magic Eggs bursting with rare monsters and rich prizes.

Version 1.3 focuses primarily on the acquisition of powerful new legendary monsters like the three-headed Cerberus and ever-regenerating Hydra. Some legendary monsters hide within the confines of an Orange Egg, only appearing when their lucky new owner has found them. Other legendary monsters can be purchased with Boss Essence from Boss Raids.

Boss Raids are one of the many new features that players can explore with their real-life friends. Players can recruit real-life friends to be their in-game "Pals" and work together to bring down powerful bosses. When a boss is defeated, players can receive Boss Essence and trade it for rare prizes. Players who collect enough Boss Essence can even get the synthesis scrolls of legendary monsters.

Synthesis scrolls can be used to turn several weak monsters into one that is far more powerful. Players have a chance to win a synthesis scroll every time they spin the Rewards wheel of a particularly difficult level. The search for the right synthesis scroll can be particularly challenging, as Haypi Monster has well over a hundred different monsters. Luckily, Version 1.3 also features a Disenchanted feature—players can disenchant several unwanted scrolls into Essence of Life and exchange it for the scroll they truly desire. Disenchantment also works for skill book exchanges.

Haypi Monster Version 1.3 also includes never-before-seen features like the Level Rush—a button that will allow players to instantly finish Veteran and Expert Mode challenges that they have completed once before. This new feature helps players skip through much time-consuming farming and lets them easily access the Rewards wheel for money and irresistible items.

A detailed Sneak Peek for the update has already been released on Haypi's official forums. As a result, the Haypi Monster section of the forums has exploded with activity. In just a few short days, the Sneak Peek has gathered thousands of views from long-time players who eagerly discuss future game tactics they will utilize once the update hits the App Store.

Haypi Monster Version 1.3 has been sent to the App Store Review and is pending release.
