Tipping Point SEO, an industry-leading web design and search engine optimization company, is pleased to announce BigCommerce Web Design & Development as part of their services. Since BigCommerce was first introduced, Tipping Point SEO began building BigCommerce websites and is now offering custom-build templates to clients. By choosing a custom website from Tipping Point SEO, clients' ecommerce stores can be fully compatible with SEO and other consumers.

All BigCommerce websites created by Tipping Point SEO come packed with features such as top quality design from scratch, clients get to choose the exact look they want for their sites, and a shopping cart tool that will stand the test of time. BigCommerce sites are known to be easier to update, as designs and other web requirements begin to change. The graphic designers at Tipping Point SEO make state-of-the-art websites that are completely approved by the client, and complete satisfaction is guaranteed.

"We are pleased to offer these services to our clients, both old and new," said Sam Page, SEO manager Tipping Point SEO. "Being about to provide custom-made BigCommerce websites is something we're very proud of, and I hope all of our clients decide to take us up on such a great addition to their business."

Tipping Point SEO also offers free site audits and competitor analysis to current and potential clients. If a customer already has an ecommerce site with a Yahoo! Store, for example, the staff members at Tipping Point SEO can quickly and easily migrate all websites to BigCommerce.
