Lee Newman, a popular retailer of designer clothing for men and women, is announcing their addition of an affiliate marketing program. Now, affiliates can market the items for sale on LeeNewman.com like Tumi Luggage, Alice + Olivia by Stacey Bendet, Micheal Kors, Tory Burch, and many more.

Anyone can apply to become an affiliate but it is ideal for fashion bloggers, owners of online stores, and anyone related to the fashion industry. The payouts are an industry leading 10% of the gross of each sale (not including any fees you might incur from shareasale.com). Affiliates can market via PPC, SEO, social media, and other mediums. There is no cap on how much affiliates can make.

"We are very excited to offer products that affiliate marketers haven't been able to sell", said Internet Marketing Manager, Sam Page. He goes on to mention how affiliates that had to rely on Amazon for selling products can now sell Lee Newman's items for a higher referral percentage.
