

New LinkedIn Group for Orlando Auto Enthusiasts

Kevin Giguere creates a LinkedIn Group for all car lovers in Orlando to join in and share their love and passion for any type of vehicle

ORLANDO, FL, June 3, 2013 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Car lovers unite with the new LinkedIn Group that has been established by CentralFloridaCadillac.com owner, Kevin Giguere.

Here all Florida car lovers are invited to join in the discussion of any type of car make, model and year that they love. The group is a place to converse with other car lovers and discuss what you love most. This site is run by a local, who is passionate about all cars and wants others to express their enthusiasm, as well.

Established in May of this year, the Orlando Auto Enthusiasts LinkedIn Group is still small as of now, but has high hopes of record numbers of participants. It has been created as a place to connect and network with others who are passionate about autos. Orlando Auto Enthusiasts will offer a place for users to talk, ask questions and seek help and advice about their cars from other users.

"It is about sharing the love and passion that you have for the automobile, despite the style," states Mr. Giguere of Central Florida Cadillac. "There are no limitations to the Group discussions and we would love to see members helping each other and offering stories and advice from their own experiences."

If you are a Florida-based car enthusiast, this is a must-join LinkedIn group for you: http://www.linkedin.com/groups/Orlando-Auto-Enthusiasts-5003717?trk=myg_ugrp_ovr.

LinkedIn is known for allowing professionals to communicate about similar interests and this group is expanding its reach to include car enthusiasts. As a professional network, Mr. Giguere is hoping to encourage car dealers, mechanics and enthusiasts to join in conversation. LinkedIn provides the platform for connection with others that love what you love, which is the motivation behind the development of the car group.
