

Vaginal Mesh Lawyer Network Launches First National Vaginal Mesh Lawsuit Help Campaign

The Vaginal Mesh Lawyer Network Has Launched A National Vaginal Mesh Lawsuit Outreach Campaign. Their goal is to reach all women with a failed vaginal mesh.

BOCA RATON FLORIDA, June 7, 2013 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Vaginal Mesh Lawyer Network Launches National Lawsuit Outreach Campaign

The Vaginal Mesh Lawyer Network has launched a national vaginal mesh lawsuit help campaign to locate all women who have injuries from a Prolene mesh device. We want women to be aware of the current vaginal mesh lawsuits that our vaginal mesh lawyers are filing. Many women still do not realize that their complications are from the pelvic mesh implant. Filing a lawsuit in each state is governed by the statute of limitations for that state and many states will reach that limit the end of July. There has been talk of a tolling agreement being signed to stay the statute. Coloplast has already signed such an agreement. According to the network representative: "we believe the other manufacturers will follow. However, women must not delay". "The vaginal mesh lead lawyers have begun preliminary hearings and the Vaginal Mesh Lawyer Network lawyers are getting medical reports and getting ready to submit 100's of lawsuits to the MDL". The Vaginal Mesh Lawyer Network wants all women with a failed mesh to be connected with a top vaginal mesh lawyer so that their lawsuit can be filed in the appropriate MDL.

"All the Vaginal Mesh lawsuits have been consolidated. The majority are under Judge Goodwin in West Virginia." we are told.

MDL – 2325, IN RE: American Medical Systems, Inc., Pelvic Repair System Products Liability Litigation

MDL – 2326 IN RE: Boston Scientific Corp. Pelvic Repair System Products Liability Litigation

MDL – 2327 IN RE: Ethicon, Inc., Pelvic Repair System Products Liability Litigation

MDL – 2387 IN RE: Coloplast Corp. Pelvic Support Systems Products Liability Litigation

The Vaginal Mesh Lawyer Network reports:

The Bellwether trials are beginning as well. You must speak to one of our vaginal mesh lawyers. This ambitious campaign will begin by reaching out women in the fifty largest cities. These are the following: Los Angeles, Chicago, Houston, Philadelphia, Phoenix, San Antonio, San Diego, Dallas, San Jose, Austin, Jacksonville, Indianapolis, San Francisco, Columbus, Fort Worth, Charlotte, Detroit, El Paso, Boston, Seattle, Denver, Washington, DC, Baltimore, Portland, Oklahoma City,

Milwaukee, Las Vegas, Albuquerque, Tucson, Fresno, Sacramento, Long Beach, Kansas City, Mesa, Virginia Beach, Atlanta, Colorado Springs, Raleigh, Omaha, Miami, Fort Lauderdale, Oakland, Tulsa, Minneapolis, Cleveland, Wichita, and Arlington.

The goal is to make sure all women are updated on the status of the Vaginal mesh lawsuits and understand the complications associated with a Prolene Mesh and are connected with a vaginal mesh lawyer to file their case in the appropriate MDI before they lose their chance. Mesh removal surgery is very costly. 1000's of women need the mesh removed and do not understand the suffering they are going through. They feel alone but, in fact they join 300,000 mesh victims nationwide.

The FDA On Vaginal Mesh Complications

"The FDA is issuing this update to inform you that serious complications associated with surgical mesh for transvaginal repair of POP are not rare. This is a change from what the FDA previously reported on Oct. 20, 2008. Furthermore, it is not clear that transvaginal POP repair with mesh is more effective than traditional non-mesh repair in all patients with POP and it may expose patients to greater risk."

A California woman has already been awarded $5.5 million in compensation for her mesh injury after trial of her case against vaginal mesh manufacturer C.R. Bard. The decision has been characterized as "landmark". This is the very first victory of its kind in the United States for a woman who sued a medical device manufacturer. This award was because of injuries suffered from the vaginal mesh implant.

We want women to know this. Vaginal Mesh Lawyer Network's vaginal mesh lawyers are for the injured woman. We are available 24 hours, 7 days. The Vaginal Mesh Lawyer Network is accepting referrals from lawyer and doctors to connect injured women to an experienced vaginal mesh lawyer.
