WoodToyBox.com, an online retailer with a number of different styles of toyboxes launches a Pinterest site full of ideas to help keep kids' rooms organized.

BISMARCK, ND, June 10, 2013 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Parents everywhere struggle day after day with a common problem -- a messy kid's room! To help parents battle the mess and keep their kids' room clean and organized, Wood Toy Box has launched a Pinterest page full of different styles of toyboxes and other organizational tips. The Pinterest page can be found at <http://pinterest.com/woodtoybox/wooden-toy-boxes/>.

Shoppers can also find an engraved cedar chest from Wood Toy Box on the site.

The page offers a number of wood toy box designs, as well as instructions on how to build a toy box from scratch and organizational tips to help keep toys put away and organized in bedrooms, playrooms and even bathrooms.

"We know just how quickly toys can take over a house! Wood Toy Box started when my wife, Julie, asked me to build a toy box for our own children. Our toy boxes have helped keep our home organized and we know they can do the same for our customers. If you're not sure how to choose a toy box that is right for you, give us a call and we'd be happy to help you select the perfect design," said Bob Beck, founder of Wood Toy Box (<http://www.woodtoybox.com/>).

Wood Toy Box offers customers a number of different styles of toy boxes, including finishes in oak, espresso, cherry and bamboo. Customers can even choose to engrave their chest and include a cedar bottom, which turns the wood toy box into an engraved cedar chest that's an ideal space to hold blankets or textiles once the children are grown.

Additionally, the company uses high quality materials such as real oak and birch wood in its handcrafted toy boxes. Wood Toy Box is also focused on safety and uses lid supports on every one of its chests. This helps ensure that the lid will not fall and slam on little fingers, no matter what position the lid is in.

"Our toy boxes are beautiful enough to help organize any room in your home, but they're sturdy enough to last generations. We use the highest quality materials and equipment to create our toy boxes and we never forget that we're designing something that will hold a child's most treasured possessions," said Beck.
