

Saratoga Springs' premier developer joins Universal Preservation Hall's Board of Directors

SARATOGA SPRINGS, NY, June 11, 2013 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Universal Preservation Hall today announced the addition of Sonny Bonacio, President and owner of Bonacio Construction, Inc, to its expanding Board of Directors. Bonacio started his company in 1989 and has spearheaded numerous residential and commercial construction projects in the Capital Region, most recently in Saratoga Springs and Troy.

"Every time I think the news can't possibly get better for UPH, I'm proven wrong", said UPH's President Teddy Foster. "Sonny's addition to our board is really fantastic and his involvement will prove to be one of the key pieces to UPH's future." predicted Foster. "This adds to the great momentum that UPH has been experiencing in the last year and a half".

Bonacio, who grew up on Saratoga Springs' west side was equally enthused about his appointment to UPH's board. "As a native Saratogian, I remember UPH before it was restored to its current splendor-thanks to the efforts of a group of people who just wouldn't give up on this beautiful building. I am proud to join their continued preservation effort and help make UPH a centerpiece of the cultural arts downtown. It is just another example of what makes our City great."

Bonacio commented in a 2010 interview about his commitment to downtown Saratoga Springs. "The downtown core is the spine of our community," he noted. "We have a vibrant downtown. It's what defines us from most other communities in the region. When people have the ability to live, work and support the downtown without vehicle dependency, that improves their quality of life."

"Sonny Bonacio is a great volunteer leader in this community who gives so much of his time, talents and expertise to so many organizations," says Todd Shimkus, President of the Saratoga County Chamber. "He is a natural fit for the UPH Board because he knows how to get things done that are of benefit to the people who live, work and visit Saratoga Springs."
