

For Women & Men, Custom Closets in Cumming GA Now Available from A Final Touch

CUMMING, GA, June 18, 2013 /EINPresswire.com/ -- A Final Touch makes custom closets in Cumming GA for homes. A recent trend is for men to develop closet space that suits their needs, and A Final Touch can accommodate them.

Over the years, the idea of the closet has evolved. A century ago, closets were generally smaller things, with armoires holding a lot of clothes and like items for homeowners. As the 20th century progressed, the walk-in closet became a staple in new construction in suburban developments. Now, however, the closet has progressed to the next level. In Cumming GA, custom closets from A Final Touch are constructed to meet the needs of today's consumer.

Some folks assume that closet space is a woman's realm. After all, it is reasoned, women have more extensive wardrobes that require storage. While that arguably may still be the case, tastes and needs are changing, and today's prosperous male might find that he needs closet space of his own.

A writer for Forbes outlines today's situation: "Men's fashion collection may not be as massive as most women's, but it encompasses almost as many categories: jewelry (ties, cuff links, rings); accessories (belts, pocket squares, watches); bags (briefcase, knapsack); and, yes, shoes (work, play, exercise, summer, winter). And it all needs to go somewhere."

While it indeed may need to go somewhere, the question becomes one of where do these items go. For an increasing number of men, custom closets fill a need that they might not have realized they had. The idea is that an organized space allows today's male more latitude when getting ready for everything from an important business meeting to a day on the golf course. And prices vary – anywhere from a couple of thousand dollars for a smaller closet to luxury units that run well into the six figures.

A Final Touch fabricates custom closets in Cumming suitable to the needs of the discerning homeowner.
