

Avant Communications Inc. Finds Strategic Private Cloud Partner in Unitas Global

LOS ANGELES, CA, July 2, 2013 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Avant Communications Inc, the nation's premiere distributor of next generation technologies announced today a partnership with Unitas Global, the leading private cloud and Infrastructure as a Service (IaaS) provider. With the resources and relationships needed to successfully navigate the ever-changing world of communications and IT infrastructure, Avant wanted to provide their partners and customers a single source solution for designed, deployed, and managed complex IT environments. Unitas Global's history of fully managed complex IT infrastructures, especially in regards to enterprise private cloud, made them the appropriate partner for Avant's needs.

"Unitas Global has proven its mastery of the enterprise private cloud and infrastructure management space," said Jennifer Gallego, Executive Vice President at Avant Communications. "Unitas' ability to provide custom single source solutions bridges the gaps that may prevent or elongate our customers' and partners' ability to quickly design, deploy and manage their IT environment."

Specializing in the design and deployment of custom enterprise IT infrastructures, Unitas Global's cornerstone solution is the Enterprise Private Cloud (EPC). These environments are then managed from 24/7 Support Operations Centers located across 3 continents.

"Avant has an in-depth grasp of the services, technology, and cost-efficient communications within the evolving IT industry," said Lawrence Lee, VP of Partner Alliances at Unitas Global. "Avant's ability to provide innovative technology solutions for their clients make them an advantageous partner."
