CasinoWebScripts, a leading company in the game development industry, are thrilled to announce the release of their newest, state-of-the art and unique arcade racing game, 'Thunder Monkeys.'

Legend of the Thunder Monkeys
Arcade Racing Game

CasinoWebScripts reviews have raved about the success of this company's racing games. When it comes to graphics, sound and different game features, 'Thunder Monkeys' shares the same astonishing quality of CasinoWebScripts' previous products. This spectacular racing game will transport the player into a world where the Asian culture is prominent. When the game starts, the first thing that gets noticed is the relaxing Asian-themed background sound. The monkeys that will be participating in the race are presented to the player in an elaborate, but user friendly bet panel, which will give the gambler the opportunity to bet different amounts of credit on every monkey, or use the combined bets option, which allows him to have the chance of winning credits by betting on more than one monkey at once.

While placing bets, the player will be notified about the amount of time that he can use to wager before the race starts. The gambler is prompted 10 seconds before the monkeys start competing, so that he can get prepared to watch the entertaining contest. After the bets are placed, the best part of the game is going to start. Six different energetic and colorful monkeys will start climbing ropes, fighting for supremacy. The race also takes place in an Asian-themed environment, reminding of the great temples which sometimes hosted these wonderful creatures. During gameplay, the gambler has the option to view the bets he placed, in the right corner of the screen.

This game's beauty lies in the events that might occur during the race. The player might be surprised to see that he has won the jackpot, which might randomly appear during the contest, in the form of a jackpot warrior. Besides that, a banana multiplier might also randomly come into sight during the race. Some of the monkeys will get unlucky and climb up the wrong rope, which might snap during the competition. The other obstacle that might occur is the appearance of the hungry eagle, which will catch the monkey in its claws and stop the little animal from achieving its goal. At the end of the race, the winners will reach the finish line and the hierarchy will be revealed. After that, the bet panel will appear once again, along with a virtual podium showing which monkeys occupied the first three positions and a list which reveals the performances of every competitor. A race takes place every two minutes, the player being able to maintain the bets he placed before, or wager in a different way.
